Review: This pamphlet tells the "success" story of how Ma Heng Ch'ang's unit in the No 5 Mukden Machine Shop set new production records and became a model working team for other workers to emulate. All the members of this unit are party members and participate in union and party affairs. In relating how new production records are set, this story illustrates the speed-up system which includes the use of rest periods for "research." Stresses the need for study, improving techniques, and helping the less skilled workers.
